DETAILED ACTION

The following action is in response to the amendment received June 26, 2008.

Drawings

The replacement sheet of drawings was received on June 26, 2008. The replacement sheet of drawings is acceptable. The objection to the drawing set forth in the previous Office action is withdrawn.

Claim Objections

Claim 16 is objected to because of the following informalities:

The language of the preamble of claim 16 is awkward and should be reworded. The awkward language in claim 16 is: "a two relatively angularly positionable of a machining apparatus".

Line 19 of claim 16 now reads as follows: "connected to the the other of the parts". One occurrence of "the" before "other" should be deleted.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 3681

Claims 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There does not appear to be basis in the original disclosure for now claiming that the inner element of the first coupling is "fixed". Also, the means for shifting the couplings relative to each other does not appear to be adequately shown or described in the specification.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There does not appear to be a proper antecedent basis for "the parts", recited in lines 18 and 19. In claim 19, "the machine and tool head" lack an antecedent basis. Also, since the disclosure does not appear to show or describe structure corresponding to the means for shifting the couplings, the metes and bounds of the claim are not clear.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed June 26, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant points out that the claims now require that the inner ring element is stationary. The examiner has not been able to find support in the original disclosure for claiming that the inner element is stationary, however. Accordingly, the claims are rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph. Also, the means for shifting the couplings relative to each other does not appear to be adequately shown or described in the specification. While applicant has amended the drawings to schematically show an actuator, this does not clarify what applicant envisioned as a means to shift the couplings. For the above reasons, the rejections are believed to be proper.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
